

Dear Arts on Tour,

The Black Violin concert was so much different from other concerts I've seen. I have been to many violin and viola concerts, but none like the one with Black Violin. It was loud, but very, very enjoyable. They kept the tempo up beat, which I liked a lot. Orchestra concerts are almost always quiet and calm (without drums!) and it wouldn't be very good manners to get up and out of your seat and dance. (Unlike Black Violin, they said it was a party.)

Their music sounded really, really awesome! The different styles of music they played sounded amazing on the violin and viola. (I won't forget about Tiffany!) It was obvious that they worked hard to make it fun and that we all had fun (including Black Violin). I, honestly could listen to them all day.

Overall, it was the most energetic concert I've ever been to. (And that's a good thing.) It was so much FUN!! I loved the part where they played Uptown Funk and

Thinkin' Out Loud. It was awesome hearing everyone singing along. I cannot thank you enough for the free concert. THANK YOU!! 😊

Sincerely,
Jocelyn, Harrison Elem.

(P.S. I thought the electric violin looked and sounded really cool.)
